Auburn Bank Depositors Committee Needs Help

Nearly a year has elapsed since the depositors in the Auburn State Bank were surprised and shocked with the announcement that the institution had failed, and in spite of the fact that many people were left practically penniless, their life's savings wiped out, and hardship confronting them, not even a single cent of the half million dollars of depositors' money has been recovered, and the parties responsible for the failure are still unpunished and neither have they made restitution

Nearly everybody in this vicinity lost money in the failure in such confidence was the institution held, and now after nearly a year, are still as far from any real money out of the ruin as ever

One thing can be done, however, that if it does not result in getting back the depositors' money, will at least help to see justice meted out to the parties concerned, and that is, as suggested by the depositors' committee, for as many as possible of the depositors in the defunct institution to attend the hearings in this matter as they come up in Judge Kersten's courtroom

These hearings will occur very soon now and you can assist the depositors' committee and state's attorney greatly if you will post yourself as to the time and place of these hearings and attend them giving the court to know that you want action for your money

The secretary of the depositors committee Mr Thos P Kirby at 7916 S Halsted St, will be pleased to give you information as to just when these hearings take place, and it is your duty to inquire and co operate with the committee as they desire you to

Liberty Bonds Rival Peanuts at Circus

Liberty Bonds are as much a staple at the circus as are peanuts popcorn and lemonade During the week ending last night the corps of energetic Liberty Loan workers who have been assigned to the Coliseum, where the Ringling show is playing, have sold many thousands of dollars worth of bonds to the throngs of circus goers During the coming week they expect to do still better, as the advance sale indicates that record crowds will visit the circus

Yesterday afternoon, just before the matinee Miss Nina Curtiss and Miss Kathryn Arney, one of the four teams of bond salesswomen at the circus, invaded the dressing rooms and "cleaned up" The performers of the Ringling show dug deep and bought bonds until it hurt

Miss Arney first visited "clown alley" and sold to nearly every one of the eighty "joeys" with the show "It seemed awfully funny and strange at first," said Miss Arney, "but do you know those clowns are just as keen for the success of the third loan as any banker in Chicago"

Typo. Union No. 16 Taxes Members for Liberty Loan

Three thousand members of the Chicago typographical Union yesterday took the first step in the movement on foot among labor organizations to levy a special Liberty Bond tax on the membership when they voted to set aside the Union's constitution and to levy a tax of $1

The constitution provides that no tax shall be levied without a referendum vote The tax which was levied is payable in four installments of 25 cents each As the union has nearly 4 500 members this will bring in approximately $1 500, to be applied on purchases of Liberty Bonds

Corps Begins New Drive for Recruits —Chance for Commissions

Washington D C, April 28—The marine corps has begun a new drive for recruits to provide for the increase in the corps Recruiting has not been pushed since last August, when the corps reached its full authorized strength but more than 2,000 men have been enlisted this month, and from 100 to 200 recruits a day are now being received

The corps has more than 40,000 men in the following divisions

Marine corps 35 217 reserves 4 962 national naval volunteers, 820 Total 40 939

Total number enlisted from April 1 to April 25 2 372

General Barnett issued the following statement

"We are making a special effort to enlist men who have had the advantage of four years' college training with military drill as they make excellent soldiers Several officers will proceed to the leading colleges at graduation time to give information to students regarding the corps and the opportunities it offers Commissions are given only to men from the ranks and everyone who wishes to become an officer must enlist and win promotion on his own merits"

The Altar and Rosary Society of St Sabina's Church invites all to attend a bunco and card party May 1st at 8 30 in the Auditorium 78th and Throop Sts Many beautiful prizes have been donated

Boy Scout Liberty Loan Campaign

We wish that it might be clearly understood just the part the Boy Scouts of America are taking in the great patriotic drive for liberty No doubt we have all seen the Boy Scout posters that were put up the first week of the campaign, and many of us are familiar with the work of the Boy Scouts and the efficiency of the movement The Scouts did not begin to sell Liberty Bonds at the opening of the campaign, as did the professional stock sellers, banks schools and various other organizations, for the reason that the Government realized that the Boy Scout movement was just the organization that could follow up, or, in other words, be the gleaners after the reapers in this great campaign for three billion dollars

Last year after all other stock brokers and professional sellers had completed their work, the Scouts were privileged to go into the field and sell bonds During one week of house to house canvassing, the Scouts were able to realize one hundred and twenty five million dollars worth of bonds We hope to do equally well in the Third Liberty Loan campaign in spite of the fact that the city has been combed in a duplicate fashion by every imaginable organization and movement

Those who have not as yet purchased Liberty Bonds will have the opportunity this week when the Boy Scouts will work every section of this part of the city, making a house to house canvass They will be glad to give you any information you may want and in addition, will relieve you of the responsibility of putting your application through the banks

Let us back up the Scouts in the noble work they will carry on for Uncle Sam!

Memorial Arch on Boulevard Link

Jarvis Hunt suggests that every patriot in America be asked to donate 10 cents for a great monument commemorative to American heroes, to be a part of the decorative scheme for the boulevard link

Mr Hunt estimates that it would cost $4,000,000 to build an archway of three spans 160 feet high at the river gateway The arch is to cross the north plaza 150 feet from the river and be flanked by towers 400 feet high, the crests of which will be illuminated at night with colored lights terminating in a flash representing the enlightenment of the eastern and western hemispheres The central figure is to be a statue of Liberty on a chariot of progress fifty feet high Across the top of the archway there will be a reviewing stand connected with the two towers and having access to elevators Emplacements above this passageway are provided for statues of distinguished men of the world, and distinguished deeds at arms of the American forces in the world war

To Our Red Cross Women

If there ever was a spur to honest American manhood it is to be found in the work, sacrifice and loyal cheerful aid of the Red Cross women here and at home Those here are undergoing hardships many a man would cringe from They never complain but greet us cheerily with smile and kind words They are both an inspiration a source of help and living shame to us That which would have been a living hell for us has now become a Paradise through their ministrations and tireless efforts Those "over here" and those at home will some day be fittingly rewarded for their sacrifice, but we who enjoy the sunshine they spread are speechless and powerless to show our appreciation of them and their deeds It goes too deep for words and the little deeds which we are able to do for them are so inadequate and insignificant that we feel hurt at our inability better to show what we feel

I have censored some four hundred letters of the men Their attempts to make friends and relatives at home realize just what the Red Cross is doing and what it means to them are pitiful and pathetic despite their sincerity Would they were inspired to write for eternity what they feel but cannot express And wherever the men go—there will be found the Red Cross But the "Women of the Red Cross" are the bond that helps to keep us from becoming a horde of uncivilized barbarians that camp life soon breeds, and war turns out in seconds

Just before midnight, New Year's Eve a number of doctors and nurses gathered in the officers' ward to help us greet the New Year The first toast was "Victory," and the Major was about to propose a funny one when a young lieutenant begged his pardon and asked us all to drink to the following one

"To our women, who sent us forth with courage in their hearts and tears in their eyes!

"To our women at home, who are sacrificing their all that we may win!

"To our women over here who give their own lives that we may live! God bless them—and damn the man who does not respect them and the coward who does not fight for them"

—From the Red Cross Magazine

Curly Hair.

Curly hair is a constitutional, hereditary phenomenon. The curly hair curls because it is flat. Straight hair is cylindrical. Being flat, the hair has a natural tendency to assume a spiral shape. Cutting has no effect, as the cause of the flatness lies in the shape of the follicle. Hair issuing from a slanting, crooked follicle is bound to be flattened and twisted.

Bits of Byplay

By Luke McLuke

Copyright, 1915, the Cincinnati Enquirer

Awful!

Dear Luke—How is this one?

Willie—Paw, what do they mean when they say that Luke McLuke sounds like whisky coming out of a jug?

Paw—They mean that it sounds as if the booze was talking, my son.—East St. Louis, Ill.

Here's Another Verse.

I am longing for the country, far from gilded, mirrored bars,
Where you don't see thin legged chickens
hopping on the trolley cars;
Where girls don't dress "en deshabille,"
and you can get boozeless eats
And where a man says, "Howdy, friend," to every one he meets.

—Ezra Pritt.

Paw Knows Everything.

Willie—Paw, what is a trying duty?

Paw—Serving on a jury, my son.

Hoot, Mon!

A Scotchman who wore a plaid kilt
Had a leg that resembled a stilt.
He took a swift glance
And put on long pants
When he saw the way he was hilt.

The Wise Fool.

Everything comes to the man who waits," remarked the sage.

"Unless he happens to be waiting for his wife," added the fool.

Queer.

"This is a queer world," said old Ned,
"A funny sort of hive;
They throw bouquets when you are dead,
And rocks when you're alive."

Sure.

"The early bird catches the worm," observed the old fogy.

"Yes, if it doesn't catch pneumonia," added the grouch.

More Trouble.

The bout is on,
It had to come;
Kid Hobson versus
Demon rum.

We Never Thought of That.

What has become of the old fashioned umbrella that used to have a tag on the inside with the inscription, "Stolen from John Jones?"—Cincinnati Enquirer. Why, it's stolen, to be sure. Wasn't it marked that way?—Memphis Commercial Appeal.

Here It Is.

Dear Luke—The old fashioned umbrella with the tag inside bearing the inscription, "Stolen from —— ——," is owned by the night marshal at New Bremen, O.—Reader.

Not on Your Tintype!

Should a lass who works accept the A n tettsnolfo h edifll...,.:; fil..,..:. Attentions of her employer?—Laporte Herald.

Things to Worry About.

The deepest hole in the world has been bored in Silesia.

Our Daily Special.

You can't keep a good thermometer down.

There is no sinecure in the soul's economy. Every power has its work to do, every capacity its gift to fill it.—Phillips Brooks.

Let In the Sunlight.

All household furnishings should be exposed to direct sunlight for a number of hours every few days. Direct sunlight is the best disinfectant known. It kills germs in a few hours. Diffused sunlight or daylight may have as good effect, but in a much longer time. Shutting the sunlight out of the house is an unhygienic custom. It should go as has gone many of the ideas and customs belonging to the dark ages. Germs live and thrive in darkness. For that reason sunshine should find its way into the home daily, and its presence should be welcomed as a messenger of cleanliness and good health. The drawing of shades and the closing of windows to keep the carpets and draperies from fading should be discouraged. It is better to have carpets and draperies that are faded than to have boys and girls with cheeks that are faded. Roses in the cheeks are more valuable than roses in the carpet.

How to Fit a Horse Collar.

A collar should be fitted to the horse and not the horse to the collar. The collar that is too large should not be used on a horse in the hope that he will grow large enough so it will eventually fit. A collar that fits well in the spring may not fit at all in the fall.

When one is fitting a horse with a collar the animal should be standing in a natural position on level ground, with his head held at the height maintained while at work. The collar when buckled should fit snugly to the side of the neck, and its face should follow closely and be in even contact with the surface of the shoulders from the top of the withers to the region of his throat. At the throat there should be enough room for a man's hand to be inserted inside the collar.—Farm and Fireside.

Waste In Food.

"Eat what is on your plate" may seem to many people to be a new table precept, yet it has been practiced for many years in certain little communities nestled among the rugged hills of New England, where the waste of food is regarded as almost a crime. Hanging on the walls of many houses in these communities may be found the "Table Monitor," perhaps worked in worsted or cardboard and setting forth this sentiment, which somehow has a characteristic old time New England ring:

Prosperity may roll with ample flow,
Still to be prized, that it may widely bless.
The world is full enough of want and woe;
I will not mock with selfish wastefulness.

People Who Rarely Wink.

There are people who rarely wink. How they manage to get along without doing so is a marvel, but somehow or other they do. Some eyes are naturally more moist than others, and the very moist eye does not so much need the assistance of the lids to keep the eyeball bright. It is a constitutional matter, for winking, though under the control of the will, is done so quickly that it is practically an involuntary action. Men wink when they feel that the eye is uncomfortably dry, and when it does not become dry the necessity for winking is not felt.

SUFFERING.

Suffering is a heavy plow guided by an iron hand; the more barren and rebellious the soil the more it is torn; the richer and softer it is the deeper the furrows.

Helping the Coffee.

Some of the coffee sold roasted and ground causes complaint. Most of it can be improved a little. Trouble seems to be that it is not roasted enough and needs another touch of fire. You know the less it is roasted the more it weighs. Put a couple of tablespoonfuls in a seamless agate quart stewpan or cup and set it on the stove, gas or blue flame and shake it while it gets another scant parching, never letting it get hot enough to smoke or scorch. Set it aside till it gets cold and then pour on the water and finish up in the regular way.

Saving Time.

Mrs. Styles—I read today that hats are being made of banana skins.

Mr. Styles—Why don't you get one dear?

"What's the idea?"

"It would save a lot of time. It could be slipped on so easily."—Yonkers Statesman.

A Reason For Forgiving.

"The Joneses are very forgiving. When their son wrote them he had eloped with the cook they wrote him to bring his bride home at once."

"But you don't understand how hard it is to keep a cook in this place."—Baltimore American.

"Why do you believe in that foolish superstition that it is unlucky to have thirteen people at dinner?" asked Mrs. Gabb.

"Because I have only twelve knives and twelve forks," replied Mrs. Gabb.

Fact.

Don't chide the man who smites your cheek,
Forgive him, oh, my brother!
And you'll find that the nervy geek
Will smite you on the other.

Paw Knows Everything.

Willie—Paw, what is a debutante?

Paw—A debutante is a girl who starts in when she comes out, my son.

Names is Names.

Safety First!

Miss Henrietta Kruger of 29 Stanley gardens, Nottinghill gate, W., begs to give notice that she has changed her name to Henrietta Kingston. Although a natural born British subject, she is persuaded to make this change solely on account of any prejudice which the use of the name may occasion.—Ad. in London Times.

Betcha!

Some folks will say that you are dense,
Some say you're overrated:
You must be your own audience
To be appreciated.

Poems You May Not Care to Read.

Kindly notify Will Ater
If a dead one you have got.
Either phone will bring his wagon,
For he's John's on the spot.
You don't need to call the sexton,
You will have no bills to pay,
Simply tell Will where he's lying,
He will take the horse away.
You don't need to dig for hours
In the gravel or the clay;
Ater's ready with his wagon
For to take your dead away.
So if you should be the loser
Of a horse or hog or goat,
Call for Ater and his wagon,
He'll come out and get the bloat.
What a blessing to this country,
Bill will go where devils tread
To remove the bloated carcass
Of a horse or hog that's dead.
Phone 4 10 R 11.

—Spring Valley Gazette.

Though no one would think so from looking at a fluid glass of milk and a solid apple, the percentage of solids and water in apples and in milk is almost the same, apples being 85 per cent water and milk 86 per cent.

Origin of "Hoosier."

While the derivation of the word Indiana from Indian is apparent, the origin of the word Hoosier applied to an inhabitant of that state is not regarded as entirely clear. The theory which has gained the greatest acceptance is that it received its present form from the vernacular rendering of the query, "Who's yer?" instead of "Who are you?" when a stranger appeared at the door of a frontier cabin. For a long time the word Hoosier was regarded as implying a reflection on the person to whom it applied, but of recent years it has found a recognized place in good literature.—Brooklyn Standard Union.

Welcoming the Actor.

A well known society performer volunteered to entertain a roomful of patients of the Colney Hatch Lunatic asylum and made up a very successful little monologue show, entirely humorous. The audience in the main gave symptoms of being slightly bored, but one highly intelligent maniac saw the thing in proper light and, clapping the talented actor on the shoulder, said:

"Glad you've come, old fellow. You and I will get along fine. The other dippies here are so dashed dignified. What I say is if a man is mad he needn't put on airs about it."—London Opinion.

Alice Joyce

In the De Luxe Screen Version of Robert W. Chambers' Great Romantic Novel

"The Business of Life"

It is the story of a young business girl who loves so strongly that she will not note from her accepted one the story of his past and trusts to him to decide whether they shall marry. Alice Joyce in the similar role, is given exceptional opportunity to use her great emotional talent and has never appeared to better advantage than she does in this story of an immortal love that triumphs over all schemings.

The world has pointed out the man of her heart as unworthy of pure love. Into her face has been painted misdeeds by this man that would have undermined a less devoted love than hers. But he's was the kind that survives all worldly influences that seek to despoil it. Can you imagine a more ideal heroine for this great story than beautiful Alice Joyce.

Bessie Barriscale

in

'Blind Folded'

"To de sweetest little lady dat ever cracked a crib!" That was the strange toast that the gang drank to Peggy Muldoon when "The Boss" told them that he was going to make her the greatest crook in the world. Nice position for a sweet little girl like Peggy to be in, wasn't it? But you see Peggy never knew anything better, but after she realized the life she was leading she tried to go straight. And when love came, her whole life changed.

This is a most unusual and highly interesting play with charming Bessie as the crooked little heroine.

Jack Pickford

"His Majesty, Bunker Bean"

Of course you read this fascinating story by Harry Leon Wilson, which ran in the Saturday Evening Post. Whether you did or not you will want to see Jack Pickford as the insignificant little stenographer in a stock broker's office, who believes that "as a man thinketh in his heart, so he is." Naturally when Bunker Bean thinks that he was formerly Rameses the Great, and begins to adopt the tactics and assume the attitude of that famous personage, things begin to happen, and they happen so fast that you will hardly have time to get your breath between the laughs.

The Beast of Berlin

THE MAD DOG OF EUROPE

They call him, and after you have witnessed this stirring photoplay you will agree that you haven't been so thrilled in a long, long time.

Every wide awake theatre man in Chicago told us to book this picture for one day and charge twenty-five cents but after due thought we booked it for two days and decided to charge our regular night prices, of Children 10c and Adults 15c. This is absolutely the same picture that other theatres have been charging a quarter for. We want you to feel the same as we feel that we did to feed the same mad desire to toss your hat in the air and shout for our boys over there and our Allies, fighting for liberty.

See this picture if you have to borrow the money. Thursday and Friday.

It is not a battle picture—however, all the vital points of the world war are brought out with a faithfulness to detail and a realism which cannot be beaten. I, myself, have seen this picture four times and I want to see it again. It fascinates me—it is uncanny the way it grasps you and works on your emotion.

You must see it. You will be a better American. Your Country—your home—will be nearer and dearer to you—and when you go out into the still night you will breathe softly to yourself—

THANK GOD I AM AN AMERICAN

Sunday, May 5th

Henry B. Walthall

"Humdrum Brown"

Henry B. Walthall has a very different role in this picture and one in which he shines to decided advantage. Just humdrum, he was, and eager only to marry Alicia, the village librarian, and have a nice little cottage, and be happy. But old lady Fate stepped in and spoiled the effect and Humdrum lost his job as cashier, and had to go to the city to look for work. And often after Alicia had come into an inheritance she set out to find her lover. She succeeded, and in doing so she also cleared up the mystery of who robbed the village bank. It's a corking story and one which could happen to any of you folks, so come along and see it.

RIGHT LIVING.

In the firm control of our thoughts lies the secret of the most wonderful possession of which we can boast—character. It is as much a matter of habit as of will, this being always honorable, truthful, just. Having formed our principles of right living, conscience invariably points to a whole hearted loyalty to them. And when baser motives try to sway the mind, why, here is just where your will power may profit by exercise.

Freedom of Will.

Professor—The result of our investigations for the past half hour is that man has freedom of will. I regret that I cannot continue the subject today, as I have to go shopping with my wife.—Fliegende Blaetter.

All Pleased.

A candidate for parliamentary honors called upon a Scottish miner and met with a hearty reception and assurance of his vote. After his departure the candidate of the opposite party appeared on the scene and received the miner's reply, "Oh, aye, sir; I'll vote for ye." After he had gone the miner's wife remonstrated with her beloved against such behavior. "Never you mind, lassie. Ye see it's like this—twa already gone awa' pleased, and when I gang tae gi'e ma vote I'll please masel', and there will be three o' us that's pleased."—London Mail.

Pathetic.

Tramp (to woman)—Can you give me something to eat, madam? Woman—No; there ain't a thing in the house, an', besides I've got a couple of letters to write an' no time to bother. Tramp (pleading)—Madam, let me lick the stamps. I can't starve.—London Telegraph.

Two Definitions of Thrift.

Thrift is the handmaiden of independence. It is not related to greed or parsimony and will gladly be your servant.

Thrift is acquiring something when you have nothing, conserving what you already have and adding to it.

The Greatest Show on Earth.

Dear Luke:
Step right in, gents! Five cents is the fee.
It's the world's greatest show, just take it from me.
Here we have the middle aged spread,
And we'll give you a peep at the real corn fed.
Those humorous twins, the fool and the sage,
Will do funny stunts on the Byplay page.
Don't overlook Luke's See-more skirt,
And that wonder of wonders, the Princess Flirt.
Here we will show you the corner kaif,
And there you'll find father, I'll vouchsafe.
Here's the summer elbow that prods and shocks,
There's the old fashioned man who wears wool socks.
There are no things to worry about.
Laugh if you're thin, it will make you stout.
We conclude with the Byplay minstrel show,
Could you get more for the money, I'd like to know?
—A Reader.

Things to Worry About.

A healthy man breathes 10,000 quarts of air a day.

Wuff!

Dear Luke:
If your wife has a pair of pretty blue eyes
And she laughs when you step on a tack;
Don't you think it would be rather unwise
To suddenly change them to black?
—Neutral.

"Help the Red Cross and You Comfort a Broken Man"

The Red Cross exists, in the main, to help the sick and wounded of this war. Since this war began, it has embarked upon every undertaking by which the lot of the sick and wounded soldiers and sailors may be made more comfortable. It has provided stretcher bearers to bring the wounded off the battlefield, ambulances to carry them to hospital, hospitals (of all kinds), where they can be dressed or specially treated, and boats and lighters by which they can be shipped for home. In addition to all this work in the field, it has been, ever since the war began, a great distributing center of all kinds of charitable work, and especially of those articles of use in hospitals. It gathers together and supplies to the hospitals of all the Allied belligerent countries the countless things continually needed, such as dressings, gauze, lint, ether, chloroform, X-ray equipment, surgical implements, splints, fracture beds, rubber air pillows, drainage tubes, bedding, crutches and clothing.

It is now one of the biggest organizations outside the armies, and supplies comforts and delicacies of every kind to the millions of sufferers broken in the cause. Help the Red Cross and you comfort a broken man. — From the Red Cross Magazine.

A large fire caused considerable destruction last Monday at the Roofing Co. at 75th and Loomis Sts.

St. Sabina's church and school will be dedicated next Sunday, May 5, at the 11 o'clock mass by Archbishop Mundelein.

Men Wanted in the National Army

Men wanted at once for the National Army in all branches of service. Men of draft age will apply at Local Board for Division 76, 1621 S. Peoria Ave., Chicago, Ill. This offer expires April 27, 1918.

CHAS. A. SPETZ,
Chairman.

The Badge of Citizenship

The Liberty Bond button is no longer a mark of liberality or even of patriotism; it is the badge of citizenship. Are you wearing one?

Further Limits Use of Wheat Flour

Under the new baking rules issued by the Food Administration, the substitute for wheat-flour content of all bread and rolls must amount to 25 per cent. The substitute content hereafter required in various products follows:

Sweet yeast dough goods, 33⅓ per cent; crackers, 15 per cent; cooking and ice cream cones, 33⅓ per cent; cakes, 33⅓ per cent; pies, 33⅓ per cent; fried cakes, 33⅓ per cent; pastry, 33⅓ per cent; batter cakes, waffles, quickbreads—such as muffins and Boston brown bread, 66⅔ per cent.

Under the new rules, no public eating place may serve more than 2 ounces of bread and rolls, or more than 4 ounces of quick bread to any one person at any one meal.

With customers who buy loaf bread, bakers are urged to promote the use of the three-quarter pound loaf, following the Food Administration's request that the 12-ounce loaf be used where the 16-ounce loaf was used before.

Bakers are urged to introduce "quick breads" as a wheat-saving measure. These quick breads, including muffins, baking-powder biscuits, cornbread, Boston brown bread, griddle cakes, and waffles, must contain two-thirds wheat flour substitutes.

The use of the words "milk" or "cream" on wrappers and labels is no longer prohibited, but milk bread must still be sold at the same price as bread made without milk.

The will and the ability to work is the foundation upon which we build health, happiness and prosperity.

Takes Money from Parents of Soldiers

Parents of soldiers in camps are warned by the War Department of a swindle which has been successfully operated in various camps.

A telegram is sent informing that the soldier has a furlough, and requesting funds by wire to come home, waiving identification. The rest is a mere matter of detail.

Parents and friends should be warned of this game and of the similar one where the telegraphic request is to mail money to the soldier, care general delivery.

Grit Your Teeth and Buy a Bond

Casualty lists are being printed in the papers and occasionally we see pictures of our wounded at the hospitals in France. War is being brought home to us in the Middle West. We know now that Americans are fighting over there and this Third Liberty Loan should find us more willing than ever before, and more eager, to contribute our share toward defeating the kaiser.

The boys are working the guns. Here we must work the farm and the factories and furnish the money. Buying Liberty Bonds is now as much our duty as it is their duty to grit their teeth and beat the Hun to it with the bayonet thrust when the charge comes.

Clean up for health. Stay dirty for disease. Cleanliness makes for beauty and safe surroundings. Dirt means disease and death. Which do you want?

"THE KAISER" The Beast of Berlin

THE STORY
By Elliott J. Clawson

Summer 1914—and the world was at peace—love and friendship ruled the glad business of every day. God looked down from Heaven and was pleased.

Gentle breezes fanned the swaying fields of grain; the world hummed with the pleasing sound of bees and birds and laughing girls.

Marcas, the blacksmith of Louvain, was a mighty man. This man, Marcas, lived in faith and love and friendship, and, by the sweat of his brow, had won peace and prosperity.

There was another man who lived in a palace in Berlin. He was twice a king, eighteen times a duke, twice a prince, nine times a count—besides, being a bishop—William of Hohenzollern, King of Prussia, Emperor of Germany.

The blacksmith of Louvain was a better man than the Hohenzollern. The blacksmith owned but two suits of clothes, one for work and one for the Sabbath. The Kaiser owned three hundred and sixty-six.

August 1st, 1914, and William of Hohenzollern spoke the word that set the world afire; came the crash, titanic, colossal—staggering.

Joy died, hope fled, desolation became supreme.

Upon that day the world passed into twilight.

The baneful autocracy of Prussia had spoken. An autocracy of hate which for decades had been deceiving a great people, poisoning their minds, preaching the virtue and necessity of war; had applied the torch of Devastation.

By a trick of circumstances the weal of mankind was placed for a moment in the hand of an arrant egoist, tyrant, madman—William of Hohenzollern. The greatest crime in all history was perpetrated that ONE man might find for HIMSELF a place in the sun.

Blinded by the Gods, there flashed forth in the mind of this one man, a madness, a fatality, a mania fatal, malignant, satanic.

From beyond the sun horizon began the tireless thudding of guns. The rich fields, the peaceful farms, the busy city became the barracks, the arsenal and the hospital.

In two years twenty-two million men were killed, maimed, or made prisoners. Twenty-two million families mourned, but hunger and suffering do not lend themselves to the processes of arithmetic—blasted homes and stunted lives are not to be interrupted by mathematics.

Then came the master crime. An unoffending people was ground into extinction beneath an iron heel, a nation was destroyed, the crime against Belgium completed to its fullest: the Prussian stalked onward with his twin comrades, Frightfulness and Horror. A new blotch of infamy—the Lusitania—was added to the black Name of the Beast.

There was another man who lived in a White House. The Chief and Spokesman of a Great Nation that believes all people were born Free and Equal with a right to Peace and Happiness.

Then came the end. The dark curtain which, like a shroud, had enveloped the earth, cleared away, and, when the echo of the last cannon had died upon the air, the silver-throated bells of all the world rang forth the glad tidings—

"William of Hohenzollern Has Fallen!"

JUST AS ONE DAY THE MIGHTY ARM OF THE PLAIN GERMAN PEOPLE WILL REACH OUT AND CRUSH THE BEAST OF BERLIN
(SCENE FROM THE KAISER, THE BEAST OF BERLIN)

It is generally conceded that the North American Indians were, as a rule, fine specimens of physical health and vigor. It has also been asserted that the Indians' comparative freedom from disease and his remarkable longevity were due to his moderate eating and the non-use until introduced to them by the white man of alcoholic stimulants. The Indians taught their children as to the dangers of gluttony and warned them that overeating was more dangerous than undereating. So if you happen to miss a meal, don't get excited and think you are going to die of starvation. Most of us eat too much, anyhow.

The Fuel Administration has issued a warning against the use of domestic sizes of hard coal by industrial plants.

Red Cross workers at line of communication canteens in France accompany American soldiers on shopping trips, to see that they receive correct change and otherwise advise them in their encounters with French shopkeepers.

In Norway, where no gasoline has been obtainable for many months and automobiles have practically ceased running, experiments are being made to operate motor cars with acetylene gas.

Prayer of a Soldier Boy's Mother

The same big moon that shines down on me
Is shining tonight on him,
But the world is wide, and the other side
I can't reach for the sea's wide rim.
Dear Lord, send the angels to tuck him in
And kiss him a fond "Good Night"—
To me he is still my little boy,
Though he is big enough to fight.

And when he goes to his bed tonight,
Though his bed be made of mud
And his canopy of a patch of sky,
And he lie in a pool of blood,
Dear Lord, send the angels to tuck him in
And wish him a sweet night's rest—
It hasn't been long, not very long,
Since I rocked him against my breast.

And if the end, Lord, should come tonight,
Or if it should come at all,
Send angels to answer—I cannot go—
Send angels to answer his call.

—Isabel Forrest Weddon.

Your Future and the World War

The future welfare and prosperity of every man, woman and child, citizens of this country, and of their children yet unborn, depends on the winning of this world war.

All the resources of the country are pledged and, if necessary, will be used. The cost is tremendous, but what is at stake is of more consequence than any cost.

Let the third great Liberty Loan be subscribed, and oversubscribed, cheerfully for patriotic reasons, and quickly as the best investment possible to be made at the present time and under present conditions. The man who hesitates to do his part as far as his means will permit is not working for his own and his country's best interests.

No slacker is worthy to be an American citizen or to enjoy the blessings of liberty and free government. Now is the time, all get together and all for our country to the last dollar if need be; to the last drop of blood if necessary, that liberty and free government may endure, and shall not perish from the earth.

They Bayoneted the Wounded

A returned Canadian officer, in telling of an engagement in which he had taken part, said: "We retook the trench from which we had been driven and found the Huns had bayoneted all our wounded when they had to get out." Those are the fellows you boys have to fight over there. Give him your whole-hearted support! Buy bonds!

Clean Up

Clean up your yards and vacant lots.

Plant seeds and garden to take the place of weed patches.

Burn dead weeds and leaves and watch the fires.

Paint houses, fences and outbuildings.

Collect all old tin cans. They hold water and breed mosquitoes.

Pile rubbish on lots and not on streets and in alleys.

Telephone your friends and organize neighborhood clean-up clubs.

Make your block the cleanest in the neighborhood.

If you clean up and your neighbor does not, talk to him and help him to see the right viewpoint. If your neighbor cleans up and you do not, let him talk to you and listen while he talks and follow his advice.

Three landing fields have been obtained for the proposed Washington-New York airplane postal service, at Washington, Philadelphia, and New York. According to the Post Office Department, the service will start not later than May 15.
